DRAW UP

YOUR

STUDY PLAN

01

Begin by identifying the field of study in which you would like to evolve. It must match your aspirations and skills. Define your professional project related to the chosen studies.

Please make sure that the study project is coherent and in the continuity of your previous studies. Your choice of training and your selection of institution will result from this project.

02

FIND YOUR

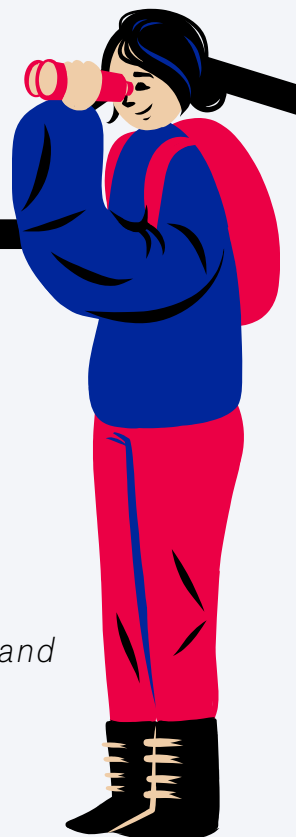

PROGRAMS

- You are a French-speaker and want to study in French : you can apply to any Master's degree program taught in French in public university that does not apply extra fees for foreign students
- You are non-French speaker and want to study in English : here is a list of Master's degree programs taught in English in universities recommended by Oman Ministry of Higher Education, Scientific Research, and Innovation and eligible for this scholarship program.

List of selected programs taught in English to be found on HEAC website

Note that a minimum B2 level proficiency in French/in English is required to apply to universities and must be certified by an official diploma like DELF/DALF/TEF or IELTS, TOEFL.

These certifications in French are offered at the Centre Franco-Omanais : info@cfoman.org

UNIVERSITIES

REMEMBER TO INQUIRE ABOUT:

- the availability of this program to international students and the applicable fees
- the academic, language proficiency, and other specific requirements.
- the admission deadlines.
- necessary documentation and online application platforms.

Once you've identified suitable programs for you, contact the relevant department or the Admission Service for Foreign Students (Département des Relations Internationales) to inquire about the admissions details.

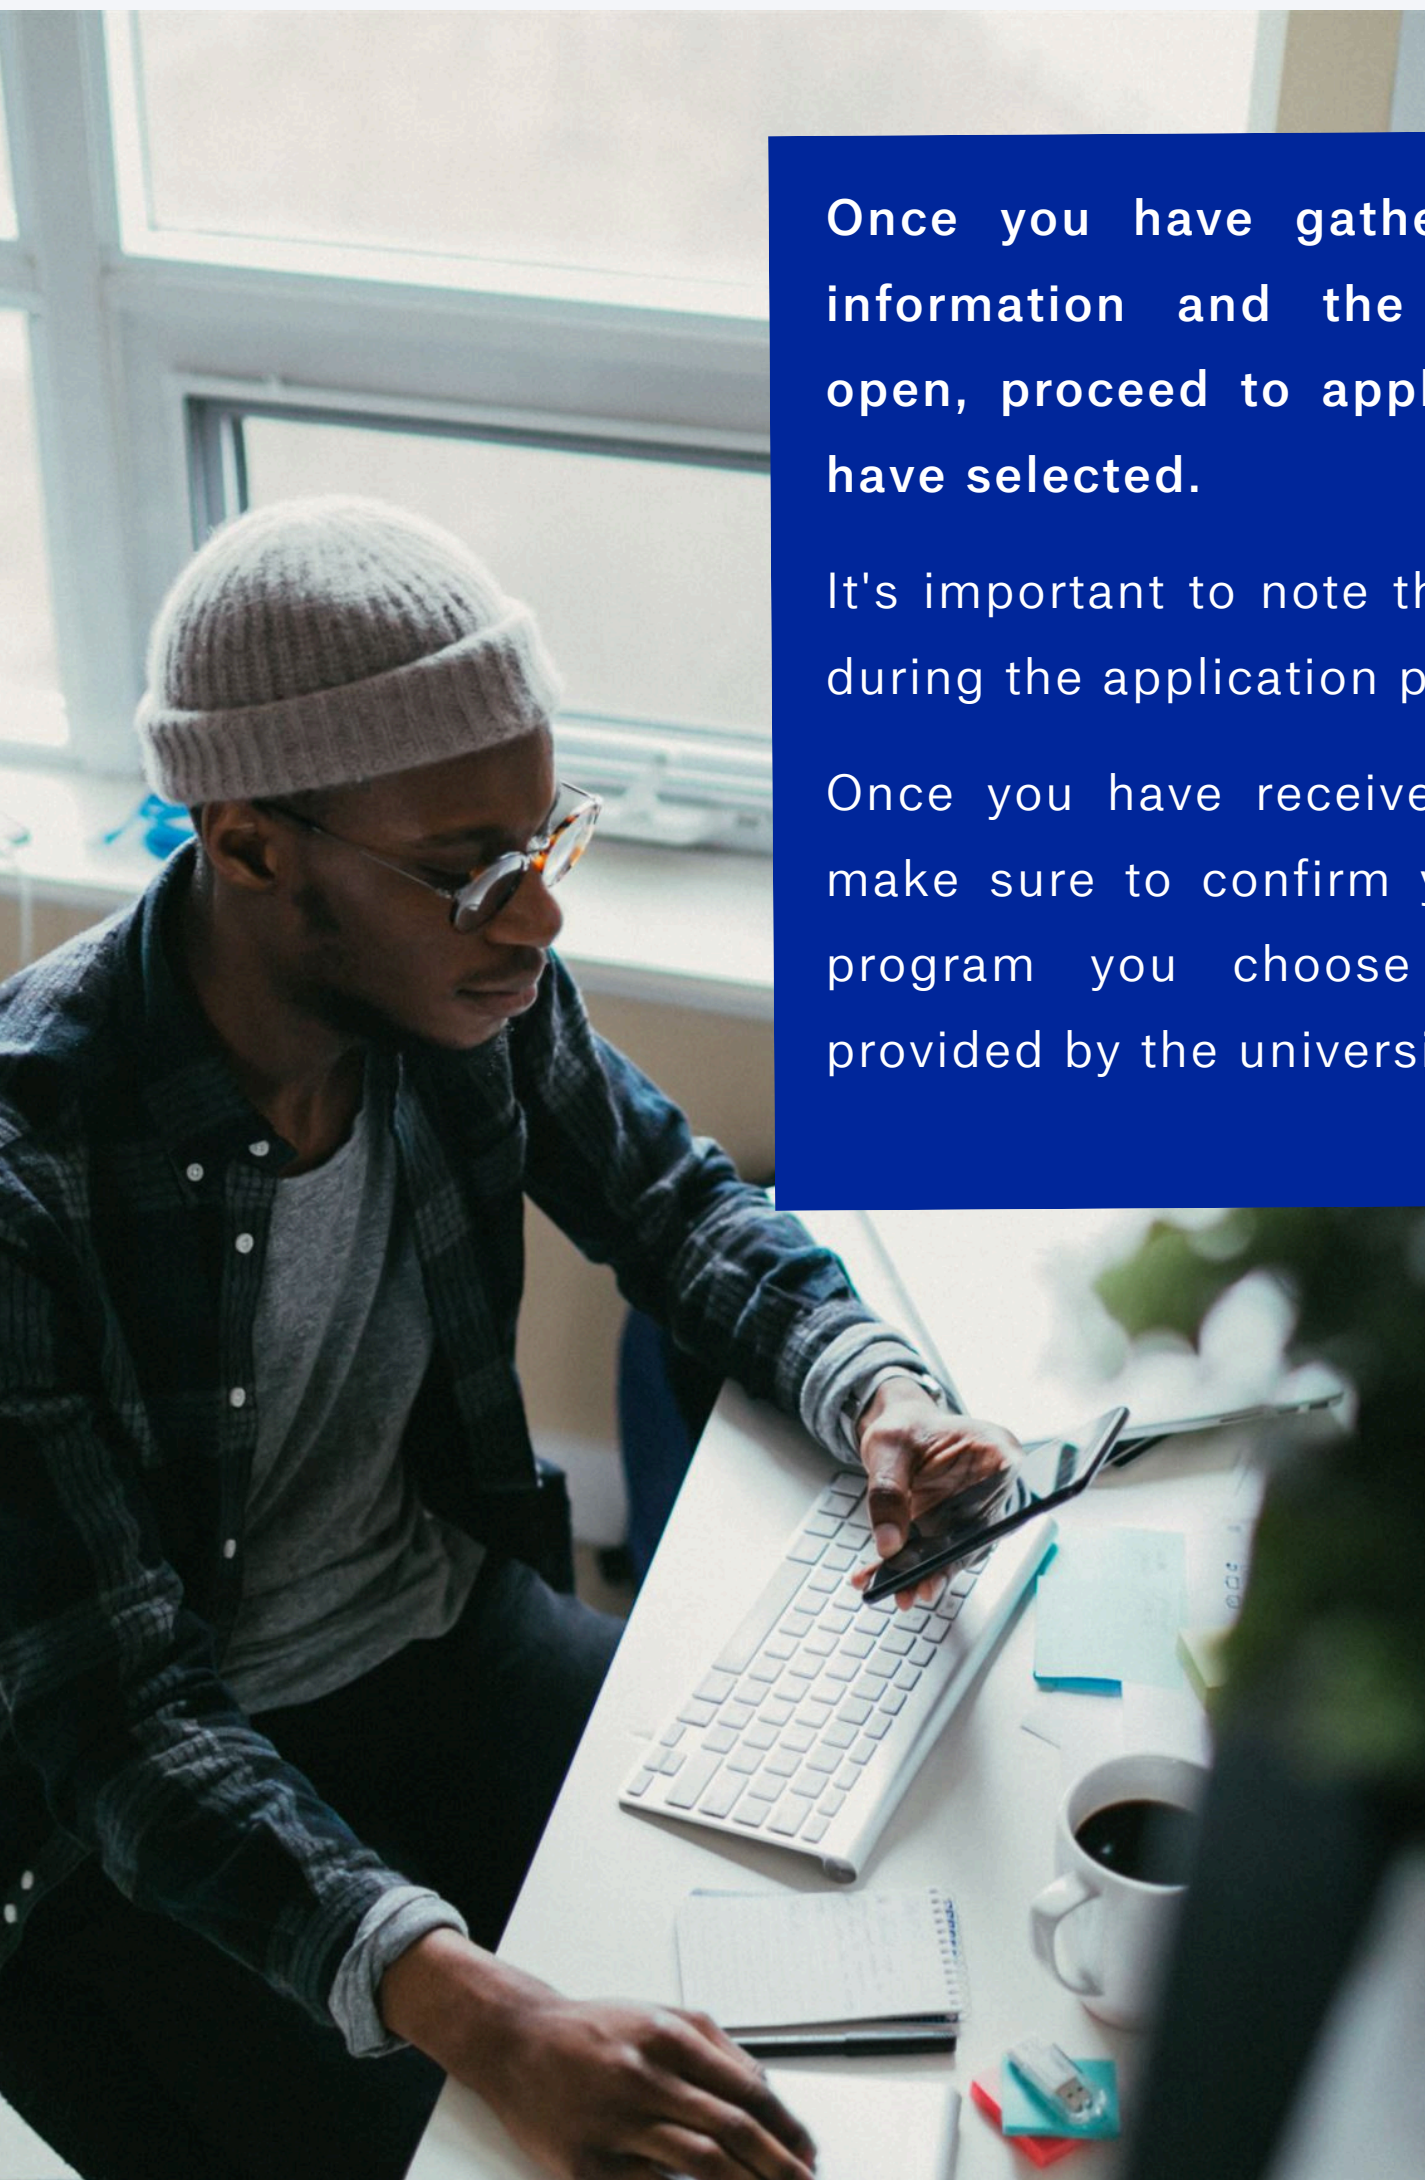

We advise you to apply for at least three different programs to increase your chances of being selected.

APPLY TO YOUR PROGRAMS

Once you have gathered all the necessary information and the application period is open, proceed to apply to the programs you have selected.

It's important to note that no fees shall be paid during the application process.

Once you have received an acceptance letter, make sure to confirm your participation to the program you choose within the timeframe provided by the university.
